

Incident Report

Findings

Time: 10/15/25 12:57:00.000 PM

Host: FRONTDESK-PC1

IOC Domain: http[:]//157.245.46.190:9999

IOC IP: 157[.]245[.]46[.]190

Possible Malware Family: Impacket

Filename: python.exe

SHA256 Hash:

CFFAB896E9F0B12101034D9CED76332EF5AA4036AFA08E940E825E277C21A044

Investigation

On 10/15/25 12:57:00.000 PM a user on FRONTDESK-PC1 accessed an IP 157[.]245[.]46[.]190 and downloaded a malicious file called python.exe. Based on brute-force activity on 10/15/25 12:21:01.000 PM leading up to this download, we are confident that this file is malicious and is used to maintain access to your environment. Based on the most recent event in this incident, we have reason to believe the attacker is acting and planning to act further within your environment.

WHO - Host: 172.16.0.110

WHAT - C:\Users\Ryan.Adams\Music\python.exe

WHEN: 10/15/25 12:57:00.000 PM

WHERE: FRONTDESK-PC1

WHY: The intent behind accessing the malicious domain and downloading the file is not provided.

HOW: The user navigated to the IOC Domain and downloaded the executable.

Recommendations

- 1) Quarantine FRONTDESK-PC1 and DESKTOP-924H12 and disable Ryan.Adams account until affected PCs are cleaned of malware and persistence. Remove the scheduled task created by the attacker. Check other computers for IOCs and quarantine if needed. If DESKTOP-924H12 is not a company computer, remove it from the network and have physical security look for any strange devices or people around the clinic.
- 2) Force a password change for Ryan.Adams and implement MFA to prevent credential theft or brute-forcing from contributing to an easier compromise for attackers.

3) Add IOC URL to deny list to prevent a repeat of this scenario. Note that IPs are easy for attackers to change, but this action does require more work.

Timeline:

10/15/25 12:21:01.000 PM Brute-force attack from DESKTOP-924H12 targeting various users begins and runs until a successful login to FRONTDESK-PC1 for Ryan.Adams

10/15/25 12:55:12.000 Ryan.Adams signs in to FRONTDESK-PC1 from 172.16.0.184
DESKTOP-924H12 Event ID 4624 Type 3

10/15/25 12:55:18.000 RDP connection established between 172.16.0.184 and 172.16.0.110

10/15/25 12:55:52.000 PM Microsoft Defender set to snoozed state.

10/15/25 12:57:00.000 PM host reaches out to IOC IP on port 9999, and python.exe is created in C:\Users\Ryan.Adams\Music\ directory

10/15/25 1:00:25.000 PM Credentials read

10/15/25 1:00:34 Host sends a DNS request for the ADDC01.KCD.local

10/15/25 01:00:34 python.exe reaches out to IOC IP on port 8888

10/15/25 1:00:34 Host reaches out to 172.16.0.7 (Domain Controller) Port 135

10/15/25 1:00:35 Host reaches out to DC and connects on port 49669

10/15/25 1:00:48 PM Many files with suspicious names ending with .ps1 are created and then quickly deleted in a quick succession.

10/15/25 01:04:59:000 PM Scheduled task created for python.exe

10/15/25 01:06:40:000 PM Ryan Adams logs off of the host computer, and all activity from that user ceases